

Spring 2018
W205 – Data Engineering
Kevin R. Crook

Schedule and Due Dates

For Kevin Crook's Sections Only

Other instructors may have a different schedule and due dates.

Monday Due Dates – Grades Delayed

I've decided to use Monday 8am Berkeley time due dates rather than Friday due dates, as the feedback I've received from students is that most work during the week and use their weekends to complete MIDS coursework. However, this means that most weeks, I won't be able to grade until the following weekend.

Curriculum in Progress

Since the curriculum is a work in progress, this schedule is not complete at this point and will be updated as we go.

Grading

Note: assignments are called activities in GitHub classroom

12 assignments total, 2 may be dropped leaving 10 assignments at 10% each for a total of 100%.

Assignments are graded in whole numbers from 0 through 10.

For an assignment to be dropped, it must be completed as a reasonable attempt. Missed assignments (or unreasonable attempts) will count as 0 and will not be dropped.

Asynchronous Materials and Readings (After the Synchronous Class Meeting)

The official guidelines are to complete these after the synchronous class meeting, using the synchronous materials as a lead into the topics presented in the asynchronous materials and readings. This is different from most MIDS courses. Some students may find value in watching the asynchronous videos and reading the readings prior to class, but that is up to the individual students to decide.

Synchronous Class Meeting #1

Sections 3 & 4: Tuesday, January 9, 2018

Section 7: Thursday, January 11, 2018

Sign Up Assignment

This will not be graded, but I would like for students to complete this as soon as possible so they can get practice on how to submit assignments in GitHub classroom using the pull request.
